Instructors,

The purpose of the NIJ Recidivism Challenge is to foster critical thinking among students. There is no definitive answer to most of the questions within this project. Instructor copies of assignments are intended to serve as a possible answer out of millions. Grading should not be based on resemblance to instructor copies but rather on the student's ability to apply topics learned in class and think deeply about open-ended problems. Encourage your students to focus more on understanding class topics, explaining their findings, and thinking creatively rather than seeking the "right" answer to the challenge.

Respectfully,
The DART Program
